So if.. Say.. At the end of the day could you use this as a source of finding voters who have not voted? Maybe put together a list of registered voters who did not vote?

Aaaaand here is the news headline, ready to go...

"Millions of retweets suddenly appear all across twitter this morning with nothing more than the vile right-wing extremist word 'Kek' used as the comment for the retweet. Multiple anonymous insider sources are claiming Russian bots."

TheDonald.Win If Trump Loses. by BigUpMyMansDonald in TheDonald

▲ 2 ▼

I think "TheDonald" is kind of like a the new Chad or Steve.. "TheDonald" may refer to a person or a personality type. For example, I'd say that most of the children of GEOTUS are also "TheDonald"s. I think that over the last four years - as a result of constant red-pilling -- many many new "TheDonald"s.

So to answer your question, when Trump Wins in 2020, there will still be another "TheDonald" we need to support in 2024.
